Hallwood Modular Buildings Announces Location to Orange County

Orange County, Texas (May 17, 2016) – The Orange County Economic Development Corporation announced today the location of Hallwood Modular Buildings to Orange County.

Hallwood Modular Buildings provides protective building systems and related services to help protect personnel and critical equipment. Their blast resistant buildings can provide protection from blasts/explosions, projectiles, fire, forced entry, noise, earthquakes, hurricanes, and tornados. Since 2004, Hallwood Modular Buildings has been one of the premier Leasing and Service companies of Blast Resistant Buildings.

“The Orange County EDC is excited to welcome Hallwood Modular Buildings to the County,” said Jessica Hill, Executive Director of the Orange County Economic Development Corporation. “They are committed to our community and dedicated to growing the company alongside existing business.”

The new facility will be located at 19262 Hwy 62 S., Orange. Hallwood Modular Buildings is prepared to hire as many as 28 company representatives over the next ten years and invest $17million in its business.

“Orange County has significant assets to offer an industrial company such as Hallwood,” said Hill. “We look forward to celebrating their success.”
